

Water management for pigs and poultry

Regional workshops for owners, managers & staff of pork and poultry enterprises

- Is access to water an issue for your pork or poultry enterprise?
- Does water quality impact your production?
- Are you concerned about water security as the climate changes?

If you answered 'yes!' to any of these questions, join us for an afternoon of discussing water management for pork, egg and broiler production

Pork Innovation WA is holding a series of regional workshops which delve into:

- access to water in a changing climate
- practical tips for checking water quality
- diet implications and impacts of water on performance
- a toolkit of resources on water management

Including keynote speaker Tony Edwards from South Australia, respected national consultant to the pig and poultry industries

Owners, managers and staff are invited to the workshops 3.30pm – 5.30pm followed by complimentary dinner and drinks
